Help for young people with learning difficulties or disabilities

Help for young people with disabilities or special needs and their carers

The broad aim of Calderdale & Kirklees Careers is to help young people make a smooth transition from education to work or training.

LDD Specialists work in special schools and units and with special needs courses in Calderdale and Kirklees colleges.

We offer post-school information, advice and guidance to young people and their parents/carers, and support schools and colleges with careers education programmes.

Our Centres

Offer information and guidance on:

- careers in general
- local jobs
- local training
- voluntary work
- colleges
- universities

See back page for your nearest centre.

Information can be made available in braille and large print format. Contact the LDD Team (see opposite) or contact the Learningline (see opposite).

Young people with special needs should contact:

Nathaniel McGowan - LDD Co-ordinator - 01484 226780

Mary Houghton - 01484 226797

Hilary Newsome - 01484 226773

Other help and advice by phone or email

Calderdale & Kirklees Careers also offers advice and information to adults wishing to enter work, training, further or higher education.

Ring the Learningline on 0800 5 979 979 9.00am to 5.00pm, Monday to Friday or email: learningline@ckcareers.org.uk

The best start in life for every young person

Connexions is a service for 13-19 year olds. If you have a Learning Difficulty or Disability you can get help up to age 25. Connexions has centres and access points all over the area. Calderdale & Kirklees Careers is part of Connexions. Connexions workers are called Personal Advisers. 'PAs' as they are often called can help you with lots of issues, contact one of our centres at the addresses overleaf for more information.
